Dear Friends in Christ,

Thirty people! Thirty. That is how many people showed up for the Jackson Catholic Cemetery cleanup. I was blown away by the generosity of so many of you. While there is still a little bit of work to do with the massive stump, the Cemetery looks pristine compared to its former state. Thank you to everyone who came out. It did not hurt that we also had three trailers plus an excavator!

Please continue to pray for our newly begun Foundations of Faith. It is at the heart of our work of evangelization and drawing people closer to Christ.

We are just a little over a week away from the beginning of Lent. What is the most successful and fruitful in life is what is prepared and planned out. I encourage you to start planning out your Lent 2023 now. Focus on your desire to have true moral and spiritual conversion. That means being honest about where you are in your moral life and knowing to what you are still attached. Sin is an unhealthy attachment to things that will never make us happy. And while a cold shower does not seem to make sense in terms of helping people to resist sinful desires and the temptations of the evil one, you would be surprised how much stronger your will is after you take one. If I can do something that is directly uncomfortable to me for the love of God, then I can also resist thoughts of judgment or overeating or gossip or lust or greed or lying or anger. Please, please, please do not give up candy. Or soda. Lent is not about your New Year's resolution. It's about your salvation. And there is no saint in Heaven saying well I gave up sugar and that's how I got here. So discern well what kind of penances will free you from sin for God. Also, plan to go to Confession. Do not make excuses. Do not think you can do everything in Lent except your practice of confessing your sins. If you are not willing to go to Confession then you simply will not change.

But alongside choosing penances that will help you to turn away from your sinful tendencies, you need the kind of prayer that will help you fully recognize the Lord's voice in your life. Maybe you should dedicate every day to reading a gospel passage. Or the daily readings. Or wake up for an early morning holy hour. Or find some time to drop by into the church when there's no one else there. Come to a daily Mass or two. If you do not know God's voice, you will always be lost.

Lent is also an opportunity to sacrifice the comforts we enjoy for the sake of those in need. To put them first. In the coming weeks we will offer a few different ways to give charitably, especially while sacrificing some of your own creature comforts.

Does all that seem challenging? It certainly is. That is what Lent is to be if it will be fruitful. If the only crosses we are willing to carry are the ones we easily choose on our own terms, they are not crosses at all and we have not yet begun the road to Christian discipleship. Faith is always on God's terms, not ours. And if you start or try to live your faith according to your terms and conditions, you will not have God at the end of the journey, only yourself. And that is a miserable state of being.

Lastly, this Lent I am doing a thematic homily series once again. We will follow the book Be Healed by Bob Schuchts. While you can order it online or get the Kindle version, we will also have some copies available for a $10 donation starting next weekend. He runs a ministry that is very much focused on healing. Much at the heart of the gospel of Jesus Christ is healing or integration of the body and soul and spirit. As we recognize the voice of the Father who loves us and we realize our own brokenness, we can allow the Lord to enter into our lives to bring healing and true freedom.

May God bless you!

WEEKLY INSPIRATION

The Ten Reminders

Jesus shares four reminders in today's Gospel: "You have heard that it was said..." The writer of Sirach also reminds us, "If you choose you can keep the commandments, they will save you." All these reminders! Why do we forget so easily? Do we forget? Even the Psalmist pleads to God to have his eyes opened and to receive instruction on keeping His Commandments. Being a good steward starts with loving God. How can we authentically exhibit our love for our Creator—here is a reminder: obedience! We are asked to go further than to just obey, we are called to obey and teach. Warning: as a result of being an authentic Catholic steward, it is necessary to do hard things, and remind others to do the same.
