Dear Friends in Christ,

I think I have recovered from that illness. It was durable. Like a twinkie or a cockroach. Nothing seemingly could destroy it. Thank you for all your prayers, kind words, and offers of drugs and food. It made me think how people who have less support and even find themselves without shelter survive with the misery of illness. I am certainly blessed in those regards.

This weekend we commence Holy Week. When we say Holy Week, we mean these days from the entrance of Jesus into Jerusalem to his arrest, trial, suffering, crucifixion, death, burial, and resurrection.

We start today outside of the church itself as we recount the entrance of Jesus into Jerusalem. The significance of this moment is rooted in the custom of ancient Israel that the rightful king would enter Jerusalem, the capital of Israel, riding on a donkey.

Then the narrative quickly shifts. It is as if all the furtive glances and whispered threats have finally gathered together in the storm above all storms to crash down upon Jesus in a final attempt to destroy Him. This year we read from the Passion Narrative in the Gospel of Luke. The emphasis is on the compassion and mercy of Christ who forgives those who have crucified Him and reconciles back to God one of the criminals hanging with Him.

So ends the beginning of Holy Week. But the readings of the week will draw us along the path in a slower more concerted fashion that will include what we traditionally call Spy Wednesday, the recounting of the betrayal of Jesus by Judas Iscariot.

On Holy Thursday, the drama of the paschal mystery (the passing over of Christ from death to life) begins. The Blessed Sacrament is removed from the tabernacle and the sanctuary lamp is extinguished. While the liturgy begins with festivity as we celebrate the Last Supper Meal, the liturgy shifts quickly as the bells are replaced by a wood clapper at the consecration of the bread and wine and the procession out of the Church with the Blessed Sacrament is done with a simple reverence, as we journey with Jesus from the upper room to the Garden of Gethsemane to pray and wait for the coming darkness. We will have adoration at the altar of repose until 10pm.

On Good Friday we celebrate the death of Jesus Christ. The altar is stripped and so are the rest of the holy things that accompany our normal liturgies. There is nothing left. The Good Friday liturgy or the Passion of our Lord Jesus Christ is reflected by its quiet nobility. There is the reading of the passion, the veneration of the cross, and Holy Communion.

On Holy Saturday at the Easter Vigil, we celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. The Liturgy includes four components: the Liturgy of the Light with the Easter Fire and the Paschal Candle, the Liturgy of the Word, the Liturgy of the sacraments of initiation, and the Liturgy of the Eucharist. It is the longest and most beautiful of our liturgies and well worth attending. Then Sunday, we celebrate with true rejoicing the Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead and onward we go, for 50 days of Easter joy, starting with what we call the Octave, eight days of celebration as if Easter has literally been extended beyond a singular day or moment. I hope you are filled with anticipation as I am!

As this is Holy Week, please keep in mind the following Schedule in terms of Mass, Confession, and Adoration starting on Thursday:

Thursday

No Adoration during the day
No 1115am Confessions
